

Dennis Kay- Salesman of the Year

Dennis was born in Kansas City, Missouri. He began playing golf early in his life, playing on two Kansas state high school golf championship teams. Dennis went to the University of Alabama and played on the golf team for Conrad Rehling and athletic director Bear Bryant. He was the runner-up in the 1977 Kansas State Amateur and the 1980 Missouri State Amateur.

Dennis entered the golf business in 1981 selling for Wilson in Oklahoma and parts of Texas. He was hired by Titleist in 1984 as a representative for New Mexico and western Texas. In 1986, he moved to Baton Rouge, Louisiana, serving Louisiana and Mississippi for Titleist. Dennis was honored as the Gulf States Section Salesman of the Year in 1989, and as Salesman of the Year for Titleist in 1991. Dennis moved to the Middle Atlantic Section in 1991, where he has been lauded for his service to MAPGA professionals and has been instrumental in hosting club-fitting sessions in this area as well as sponsoring several section events.

Dennis has been married to Lynda for two years, and has a seven year-old stepson, Alex.
