Maryland State Golf Association
Middle Atlantic Golf Association
Washington Metropolitan Golf Association
North Potomac, Maryland

Randal P. Reed was born on March 29, 1948 in Fayetteville, Arkansas to parents John P. and Frances Reed and has one sister Tammi Reed. Randy started playing golf at the age of twelve when he attended a Boys Club Golf Clinic at a nine-hole facility called Razorback Park in Fayetteville, Arkansas. He played golf almost every single day well into his mid-twenties. He attended University of Arkansas where he earned his Bachelors degree in Political Science. While at the University of Arkansas, Randal played on the men's golf team where he lettered for two years, and was also active in his fraternity Phi Beta Kappa. Later in life, Randy attended Georgetown University in Washington D.C. where he earned his masters in Government.

From 1973-1981, Randy worked at Congressional Country Club working as a caddie, bag room manager, caddie master and starter. He then went to work as a Department Manager for G.L. Cornell Company Turf Equipment from 1982-1995. After his time at G.L. Cornell, Randal went to work as National Sales Manager for Softspikes from 1996-2001. Currently, Randy serves multiple golf associations within the Middle Atlantic Section. He has served the Maryland State Golf Association (MSGA) as Director of Rules and Competitions since 2002, the Middle Atlantic Golf Association (MAGA) as Executive Director since 2003, and the Washington Metropolitan Golf Association (WMGA) as Executive Director since 2004.

Randy has worked with many PGA professionals over the years in running area tournaments. Often beating them to the course in the morning, Randy is appreciated as a very thorough operations and rules official. Above all, he has contributed much time and effort to raising the bar for championship golf within the Middle Atlantic Section.

Randy has very extensive volunteer experience, boasting working more than thirty USGA Championships including the Walker Cup, US Open, US Amateur, US Women's Open, US Senior Open, US Mid-Amateur, US Women's Amateur Public Links, US Junior Amateur and US Junior Girls. He volunteered on the MSGA Executive Committee from 1987-1995 and in 1995, he became President of the association. He also volunteered on the USGA Regional Affairs/ Regional Associations Committees since 1990 and was the President of the MAGA in 2009. Randal also volunteered at several NCAA Championships in Divisions I, II and III.

In February of 2011, Randy scored a perfect 100 on his PGA/USGA Rules of Golf Workshop test! He has also been the recipient of the MSGA Women's Division Distinguished Service Award in 2002 and the Towson University Distinguished Service Award in 2008. Randal and his wife Laura have been married for thirty years. They have a son Chris (27) and daughter Carroll (25).
