

James Schouller, PGA
Fountain Head Country Club
Hagerstown, Maryland

Jim Schouller was born on January 13, 1974 in Clarksburg, Mass. to James Schouller and Patricia Morrissey. Jim began playing golf as soon as he could walk under the influence of his father who just happens to be a PGA Professional. Jim's father was a big influence in his desire to play golf. He wanted to be just like his dad and knew early on exactly what he wanted to be when he grew up. Jim's first golf-related job was washing clubs, shagging range balls by hand and re-gripping clubs for his father at Stamford Golf Club in Stamford, NY. He Played golf at Drury Senior High School in North Adams, Mass. and lead the team to its first ever Western Massachusetts Team Title where he finished second in the State. This helped in his decision to attend New Mexico State University where he graduated in the Professional Golf Management Program in 1996.

Jim's first job as a golf professional was as an Assistant at Colonie Country Club in Albany, NY from 1997-1999. After Colonie, Jim moved into the Middle Atlantic Section and worked as an Assistant at Congressional Country Club in Bethesda, Md. until 2007. Jim was selected as the Head PGA Professional at Fountain Head Country Club in Hagerstown, Md. and has been serving the members there since 2007.

Jim has achieved many significant accomplishments throughout his life, most recent being named Top 100 Golf Shops by Golf World in 2010. He was also awarded the Creative Sales Promotion Idea of the Year by American Golf Merchandisers in 2009. Jim has been published in three editions of The Little Book of Big Golf Promotions, one in 2008 and one in 2010, 2011. Jim is also incredibly active in community service and fund raising from Marathon Golf Days. He helped raise $5,000 for Children in Need in Hagerstown, Md. and $4,000 for Safe Place, a child abuse center in Hagerstown, Md. In one day, the members and staff at Fountain Head Country Club raised over 6,000 food items for a local food pantry in Hagerstown.

Being around the business his entire life, Jim is eager to learn as much as he can. Watching his father's interactions with his customers taught him how to treat people. Jim has worked for so many other great PGA Professionals and those experiences laid a good foundation for developing his own unique style. His success is highly driven by his passion for my career and always strives to get better and learn new skills.

Jim and his wife Emily were married in 2000 and have two children, James Robert, III (age 5) and Fenway Harriet (age 4).
